REACH Compliance Statement

(Registration, Evaluation, and Authorisation of Chemicals)

June 15, 2015

Introduction

Positronic understands the importance of protecting our environment. We strive to stay abreast of environmental regulations and how they relate to our connector products. This document is intended to inform our customers regarding compliance to REACH requirements.

Registration

Under the current requirements of REACH, Positronic is not required to register any of its products.

Substances of Very High Concern (SVHC)

On June 15, 2015, the European Chemical Agency (ECHA) released a list of additions for inclusion in Annex XV as Substances of Very High Concern. This change in the SVHC requirements has prompted a review of the Positronic product line to determine how these changes affect compliance. Once this review is completed, information concerning SVHC compliance by product line will be posted on our website. We believe only a small percentage of our products will be impacted by this change. SVHC information can be provided on a case-by-case basis by contacting technical sales or our environmental services department, kaygentry@connectpositronic.com.
